Introduction

The Connecticut Association of Boards of Education (CABE) is comprised of over 149 boards of education from across the State of Connecticut. Incorporated in 1938, CABE today represents more than 1,400 board of education members. As the responsibilities of boards of education have grown, the need for resources available to them has also grown. CABE has changed over the years to meet these challenges.

CABE serves as the leading voice on education issues at the state level, through advocacy that impacts the Governor, the Legislature, the State Board of Education, the courts and other governmental entities.

CABE also lobbies at the federal level. CABE offers boards of education services in policy development, legal issues, negotiations, and board development through a series of training opportunities on a statewide basis.

Boards concerned with issues such as superintendent evaluation, board self-evaluation, team building and new board member orientation use CABE customized individual sessions, or attend CABE workshops designed to teach board members the skills they need to be successful. CABE also offers superintendent search services and programs to help with insurance needs.

CABE's Mission Statement

- To assist local and regional boards of education in providing high quality education for all Connecticut children through effective leadership.

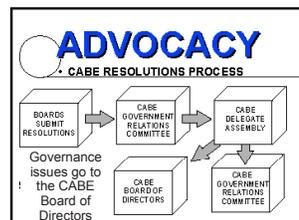

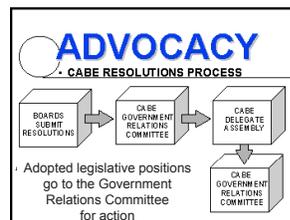

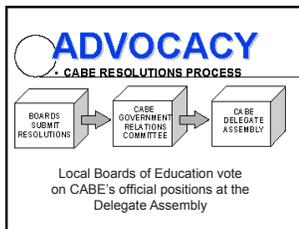

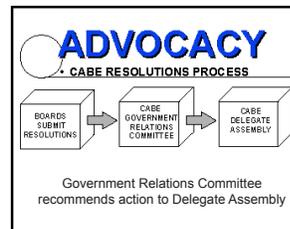

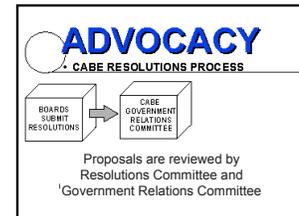

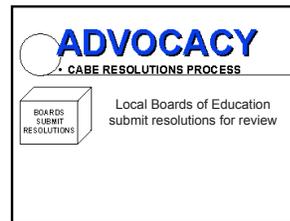

CABE Leadership

CABE is governed by a Board of Directors, comprised of both elected and appointed members of boards of education from across Connecticut. Voting members of the Board of Directors consist of directors or co-directors from each of the nine CABE regions, city representatives, directors at large, any Connecticut board member who is currently serving on the NSBA board of directors, and chairs of standing committees and subcommittees. The immediate past president also serves on the Board of Directors. CABE officers, elected by the membership at the annual convention, also serve on the Board of Directors, as well on its Executive Committee. CABE bylaws do not allow a person to hold a particular officer position for more than two successive one-year terms.

CABE Delegate Assembly

CABE's Delegate Assembly is responsible for adopting resolutions regarding the positions of the Association, electing officers, adopting bylaws, establishing a dues schedule and conducting any other business that might come before it. The Delegate Assembly meets each fall, prior to the start of the annual session of the Connecticut General Assembly. If there is a need, the Board of Directors can also call for a Special Delegate Assembly. It is the right (and responsibility) of each member board to send one or more voting delegates to the Delegate Assembly. Other board members are welcome to fully participate in the debate. Each year, the resolutions passed by the Delegate Assembly become the framework for CAFE's government relations activities.

CABE Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is responsible for establishing policies and proposing bylaws for the Association, as well as maintaining contact with other organizations interested in the cause of public education. The Board of Directors is responsible for hiring the Executive Director, approving the Executive Director's job description, as well as the annual budget. The Board of Directors delegates work to various subcommittees, including Finance, Nominating, Government Relations, Convention, Program and others as appropriate. The chairs of these committees are either appointed by the President, or are specified in the bylaws.

Any member of the Board of Directors who travels out-of-state for the Association should consult CABE's policy on Out-of-State Travel reimbursement.

CABE Officers

CABE's officers are the President, First Vice President, Vice President for Government Relations, Vice President for Professional Development and Secretary-Treasurer.

These officers together with the Immediate Past President and one member at large appointed by the President to balance representation comprise the Executive Committee, which is charged with oversight of operations of the Association between meetings of the Board of Directors, setting the agenda for the Board of Directors meetings, naming board members as liaison to other organizations, periodically establishing and reviewing guidelines for the employment and evaluation of staff. Executive Committee members are entitled to go to any CABE workshop free of charge.

President

The responsibilities of the President include appointing the five "at-large" Associate positions and, under same circumstances, "city" representatives to the Board of Directors, and serving on state and national committees where the Association needs a presence. The President chairs all meetings of the Association, the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee. He or she appoints chairs to some standing committees as well as ad-hoc committees as required and represents the Association at NSBA events, such as the Federal Relations Network (FRN) and the NSBA Delegate Assembly.

First Vice President

The First Vice President presides at Association meetings in the absence of the President. While not specifically stated in the bylaws, the First Vice President is expected to assume the presidency when the President's term expires, and would serve the remainder of the President's term if the office is vacated. He or she is expected to represent CABE in many of the same ways as the President, including the FRN and the NSBA functions previously mentioned. The First Vice President is the chair of the Distinguished Service Award Committee and serves on the Finance Committee. The First Vice President works with Area Directors to maintain contact between CABE and its membership, and actions to promote and retain Association membership.

Vice President for Government Relations

Advocacy is one of CAFE's most important roles. As the leading voice for Connecticut's public schools, CAFE maintains an influential presence at the Legislature, and works year round on matters involving state and federal legislation. The process for establishing positions on educational matters, and following them through the appropriate channels, is the role of the Government Relations Committee. The Vice President for Government Relations chairs the Government Relations Committee, and acts as its chief spokesperson. The Vice President (with the approval of the President) also appoints the chairs of the three subcommittees (Resolutions, State Relations and Federal Relations).

Vice President For Professional Development

Another of CAFE's significant responsibilities is that of providing board members the skill training necessary to do their jobs effectively. The Vice President for Professional Development chairs the Convention Committee, oversees an annual series of workshops and the annual CAFE/CAPSS Convention at which board members are given the opportunity to participate in a variety of learning experiences. The Vice President advises the President on all issues before him or her.

Secretary-Treasurer

The Secretary-Treasurer chairs the Finance Committee. This committee is responsible for the development and implementation of CAFE's budget. The Finance Committee also works with staff to develop financial plans. The committee has also reviewed methods of increasing non-dues revenues. The Secretary Treasurer reports on the financial status of the Association to the Board of Directors at each meeting.

The Secretary-Treasurer is also charged with oversight of the minutes of the Association and is responsible for alerting various committees and officers of their responsibilities as they come up in the calendar. As with the other officers, the Secretary-Treasurer also serves as a spokesperson for the Association.

Immediate Past President

The Immediate Past President brings continuity to the CAFE Board of Directors. This is the only member of the Board of Directors who does not need to be a current member of a local board of education in order to serve. However, if the Immediate Past President is not a member of a member board, he or she cannot vote. The Immediate Past President serves as a representative of the Association when appropriate. The Immediate Past President also serves as chair of the Nominating Committee.

Area Directors

CAFE is divided into 9 Areas (see map), each served by one or two representatives known as the Area Directors or Area Co-Directors. According to the CAFE bylaws, Area Directors have two main functions:

1. Co-Directors or Area Directors are voting members of the CAFE Board of Directors, and are expected to attend and participate in those meetings and
2. The Area Directors are CAFE's most important communications link to its membership. By holding area meetings on a variety of issues the Area Directors can have a profound influence on the level of involvement by other boards of education from within their area. While the Area Directors are expected to hold at least two meeting per year, they are not limited to two. Responsibilities include: securing a place, contact and confirmation with food services. Some Areas maintain a high level of activity all year long.

City Representatives and Associate Directors

In order to allow for some continuity on the board, and to ensure equitable representation, the CAFE bylaws allow the addition of a representative from each of the state's five largest cities, each appointed by the city or, if no appointment is made within two months of the Convention, by the President. Five "at large" members of the Board of Directors also are appointed by the President. The President also has authority to appoint up to three additional Associate Directors from among the 25 largest districts. Each of these representatives must be members of a member board of education and are full voting members of the Board of Directors, and are expected to assume all of the responsibilities and to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors.

I.

Four Principles to Guide CAFE's Board of Directors

How can our Association represent all of our public schools; small or large, rural or urban and poor or wealthy?

1. A deep belief that the collective efforts of the organization can advance both the special and overall needs of its members to a greater advantage than numerous separate agendas.
2. The collective efforts of the statewide organization can produce cost-effective services at significant advantage over individual or small group efforts.
3. A forum for exchanging views, seeking collaboration and finding common interests is provided within a diverse membership.

4. School leadership issues and the vision and mission of public education can be articulated, reinforced (and defended, if needed) in the collective actions of a proactive statewide organization.

The collective efforts of an organization should and in most cases will strengthen each district if each can remain focused on the big picture, the education of all of our children for the betterment of our collective futures.
